A Promise is a Promise

We had a lot of fun at our Galettes Party on January 30. Many people learned how to make galettes "Breton style", using a buckwheat dough and stuffing them with ham, smoked salmon, cheese, etc.. It was so yummy that at the end of the party we received a demand for the recipe. We didn't include it in flyers, but we promised to include the recipe in our March newsletter. Now everyone will be able to make Breton galettes at home. Watch for our next issue!

Haiti

We all need to think about the people who live just a few hundred miles from here who are hungry and desperate. You have all seen on TV the scenes of horror in Port-au-Prince and the surrounding region. The Alliance Française at large has (unfortunately shall we rather say "had"?) several chapters in Haiti. One of them in Jacmel was completely destroyed. AFGO will soon organize a benefit in order to contribute, even modestly, to the rebuilding Jacmel's Alliance Française. You will receive a special flyer with the details.

AFGO new Web site

After months of development and testing, we are confident that we will be able to launch AFGO new Web site soon. You will receive a special notice. We hope that you will find this site informative and that you will enjoy a vast array of photos.
